Gentlemen
Have you ever any return this Ale & would say I should like to sell my proofs, altho I am not so anxious as to give them away. There are in all 26 sets from 1858 to 1881 including both of the two sets of 1873 & a duplicate of 1879.
all full sets.
As you are in the business and are of course better familiar with Current prices. I naturally look for an offer from you.
I dont like exhibit a disposition as many of them have my materially appreciate price purchase.
Awaiting your further advices

I am Yours Truly
J. F. Dudley

Have a few set of Half Dollars from 1794 to date except 1799. Most of them very fine & uncirculated finish. Do you want them

Gentlemen

On my return this AM I find your favor 6" & in ans. will say. I can not entertain your offer at it is entirely below a fair price

I will take $125. ask for the proof sets not including the 1873 Trade sets. or $200 for the whole

If I can not get that I prefer to sell with my entire set as it would make my entire set worthless by breaking it. An Eastern party is in negotiation for the entire set since I wrote you.

Yours truly J. F. Dudley.

Gentlemen.

Yours is at hand. In reply would say I do not wish to take my half dollars out of my Collection unless I dispose of whole lot as it would ruin sale.

As to your criticism of my assertion I would say. If you exhibit & buy for 25 ℔ to 50 ℔ of the value of the coins then your offer is not "entirely below a par price". Your offer makes an average of less than 16 per set. You know the worst price on roman of the two dollars has not been less than $4. or $4.25. You know that the two sets of '77 & '78 alone being that for the 20 ct. piece alone. You know there has not been a recent sale where 1858 set has not brot $50 or thereabouts & that 1873 old has brot. good price & is scarce & You also know you have not seen the Proof set of 1873 (Pattern) sold as low as $75 for years.

Of course it is entirely at your option to buy & I am not obliged to sell — so let the matter drop. I have had a letter after much for more
